Mayor Pierce, of Perth Amboy, has come into possession of information which may furnish a clue to the murder. W. R. James, 91.7 Park avenue, Hoboken, owner of the boat Eldorado, accompanied by the former captain of the boat Evan Hansen, called at Mr. Pierce's office, South and Broad streets, this city, vesterialy morning on bestness connected with the beat's cargo. During the conversation Capt. James took the Mayor astic and told him he thought Hansen might know something of the Perth Amboy crime.

The latter's coat was torn, and under the arm sieve was a big red spot, which James thought Hansen was abslous to conceal. Hansen's pocketknie was also covered with dark red spots.

James told Mayor Pierce that Hansen had brought a cargo of brick up from Woodbridge
